Contents of Volume 7

PSYCHOPHYSICS

- Psychophysical methodology: Deductions from the phi-gamma hypothesis and related hypotheses by R. M. Herrick, 73
- Response differentiation: A psychophysical method for response produced stimuli by D. P. Ferraro and D. M. Grilly, 206
- Test of a response bias model of bisection by R. F. Fagot and M. R. Stewart, 257
- Simultaneously contrasting anchors by J. A. Steger and E. O'Reilly, 281
- Visual and tactual form discrimination: Psychophysical comparison within and between modalities by D. H. Owen and D. R. Brown, 302
- Ratio scales of sugar sweetness by H. R. Moskowitz, 315

DETECTABILITY

- Detection of auditory signals presented at random times, II by R. D. Luce and D. M. Green, 1
- A signal detection theory analysis of a category judgment experiment by E. F. Shipley, 38
- Limits on the applicability of signal detection theories by A. Parducci and A. J. Sandusky, 63
- Proximity requirements for auditory gap detection by I. Pollack, 137
- Temporal order: The effect of single versus repeated presentations, practice, and verbal feedback by R. W. Gengel and I. J. Hirsh, 209
- A signal detection analysis of the rod and frame test by J. R. Schuck, H. A. Cross, and D. H. Mills, 276
- Detection of extraneous signals during sentence recognition by V. M. Holmes and K. I. Forster, 297

VISION (GENERAL)

- Successive luminance difference thresholds and brightness as a function of the interstimulus interval and durations of successive flashes by S. Stecher, M. Sandberg, and P. J. Minsky, 79
- The relationship between binocular brightness matches and luminance difference discriminability of successively presented light flashes by S. Stecher and M. Sandberg, 86
- Colored aftereffects produced with moving edges by C. F. Stromeyer III and R. J. W. Mansfield, 108
- Rotary motion and efferent readiness by C. A. Burnham and D. R. Aertker, Jr., 311
- Perceptual isolation effects: Short-term visual storage vs cognitive-perceptual structure by G. A. Forsyth, 342
- Temporal factors in visual perception as

- related to aging by C. W. Eriksen, R. M. Hamlin, and R. G. Breitmeyer, 354
- Experimental measures and theoretical account of hue scaling as a function of luminance by D. Yager and E. Taylor, 360
- The effect of moving and static trans-scleral illumination of visual afterimages by R. J. Hall, R. A. Monty, and W. E. Wilsoncroft, 367
- Frequencies and latencies in detecting two-flash stimuli by M. Grossberg, 377

VISUAL MASKING

- Masking of alphabetic character recognition by ultrahigh-density dynamic visual noise by W. R. Uttal, 19
- U-shaped masking functions in visual backward masking: Effects of target configuration and retinal position by A. L. Stewart and D. G. Purcell, 253
- On the physiological basis of masking with dotted visual noise by W. R. Uttal, 321

FORM RECOGNITION

- A visual illusion of succession by J. H. McFarland, 43
- The effect of part sequence on succession threshold by J. H. McFarland, 91
- Pythagorean distance and the judged similarity of schematic stimuli by W. C. Rankin, R. P. Markley, and S. H. Evans, 103
- Perceptual organization of nine-element auditory temporal patterns by F. L. Royer and W. R. Garner, 115
- The apparent size of "projected" afterimages under conditions where size-constancy holds by J. J. Furedy and G. Stanley, 165
- Susceptibility to geometrical illusions according to culture and professional training by G. Jahoda and B. Stacey, 179
- Dissimilarities as indices of individual perceptual structure by P. D. Isaac, 229
- Schematic concept formation: Feature measures and constraint redundancy as predictors by C. M. Mavrides and D. R. Brown, 239
- Central integration effects with stabilized afterimages by D. H. Owen and C. Chalfant, 284
- The influence of surface complexity on judgments of area by R. T. Verrillo and C. K. Graeff, 289
- Mediatory cue proximity and mental subnormality in the perception of rectilinear dot progressions by E. A. Holden, Jr., 291
- Functional equivalence between same-different classifications and judged

- similarity of Markov patterns by B. R. Brown and D. F. Dansereau, 307
- Dimensional salience as a function of educational attainment and method of discrimination training by G. A. Forsyth, P. D. Forsyth, and J. Pinsince, 345
- Temporal characteristics of a comparator in adaptation to optical tilt by S. M. Ebenholtz and G. M. Redding, 365
- Subjective uncertainty, the orientation reaction, and the reinforcement of an instrumental response by R. M. Nicki and J. F. Shea, 374

RECOGNITION

- Selective mechanisms in visual perception by K. Gummerman and H. Munsinger, 51
- Stimulus and response repetition effects for naming letters at two response-stimulus intervals by W. H. Eichelman, 94
- Habituation of the visual orienting response in young children by N. H. Mackworth and D. A. Otto, 173
- Manipulation of study trials in recognition memory by L. R. Allen and R. F. Garton, 215
- A Bayesian prediction of four-look recognition performance from one-look data: II by S. M. Keeley, M. E. Doherty, and S. M. Bachman, 218
- Intermittency in presentation increases identification of masked figures by K. R. Alexander, 223
- Form recognition: Individual strategies in multivariate cue utilization by D. H. Owen and M. A. Andolsek, 234

SPACE PERCEPTION

- Binocular fusion and contour suppression by A. G. Goldstein, 28
- Apparent size, apparent depth and the Müller-Lyer illusion by B. Stacey and R. Pike, 125
- The effect of structure and degree of tilt on the tilted room illusion by G. Singer, A. T. Purcell, and M. Austin, 250
- Some observations of a stationary and revolving three-dimensional skeletal cube by H. H. Spitz, 287
- Effects of situational cues on prism-induced aftereffects by J. J. Uhlarik and L. K. Canon, 348
- The shape of inhibitory fields in the human visual system by K. M. Schoenberg, M. Katz, and M. S. Mayzner, 357

CHEMICAL AND SOMATIC SENSES

- Seeing with the skin by B. W. White, F. A. Saunders, L. Scadden, P. Bach-Y-Rita, and C. C. Collins, 23
- Minimally effective interpolated stimuli in weight discrimination by R. A. Bell and E. C. Baggett, 157

- Differences in heaviness in relation to density and weight by J. Ross and V. Di Lollo, 161
- Odor intensity after self-adaptation and cross-adaptation by W. S. Cain, 271
- David Katz's Der Aufbau der Tastwelt (The world of touch): A synopsis by L. E. Krueger, 337
- Psychophysical scales of the odor oiliness of homologous alcohols by K. E. Henion, 351

INFORMATION PROCESSING

- Context and learning in the processing of information from brief visual displays by H. A. Taylor, 15
- Differential payoff and locus of selectivity in a visual memory task by F. Tolkmitt and R. E. Christ, 47
- The span of apprehension: Form identification as a function of amount of information displayed by J. S. Lappin and S. H. Ellis, 65
- Selective eye movements to simultaneously presented stimuli during discrimination by S. R. Schroeder, 121
- Violations of visual simultaneity by W. R. Uttal, 133
- The effect of multiple responses and certainty estimates on the integration of visual information by J. Halpern and Z. J. Uehla, 129
- Visual information processing of sequentially presented inputs: II. Effects of list length and interstimulus interval values on subspan storage and retrieval mechanisms by M. Katz, K. M. Schoenberg, and M. S. Mayzner, 149
- Consolidation and interference in the perceptual memory system by D. W. Massaro, 153
- Release from proactive interference in short-term memory as a function of change in visual and phonemic structure and retention interval by M. T. Turvey and J. F. Egan, 169

An informational analysis of a visual search task by P. R. Meudell and T. G. Whiston, 212

Information measures in perceptual experiments: Some pitfalls encountered by Kintz, Parker & Boynton by A. W. MacRae, 221

Visual and tactual form complexity: A psychophysical approach to perceptual equivalence by D. H. Owen and D. R. Brown, 225

Attention in bisensory simultaneous short-term memory by R. L. Dornbush, 244

Visual information processing of sequentially presented inputs: III. Further effects of list length and interstimulus interval values on sub-span storage and retrieval mechanisms by M. S. Mayzner, M. E. Tresselt, J. Checkes, and H. A. Hoenig, 294

Effects of noise similarity and redundancy on the information processed from brief visual displays by C. McIntyre, R. Fox, and J. Neale, 328

Instructions, strategies, and pattern uncertainty in a visual discrimination task by D. E. Clement and C. F. R. Weiman, 333

Short-term recognition memory of tones by S. M. Moss, J. L. Myers, and T. Filmore, 369

PERFORMANCE

Sensitivity and decisional factors in the psychological refractory period by I. H. Bernstein, M. H. Clark, and R. R. Blake, 33

A cueing technique in choice reaction time by D. LaBerge, P. Van Gelder, and J. Yellott, Jr., 57

Variations in watchkeeping performance as a function of the rate and duration of visual signals by J. S. Warm, M. Loeb, and E. A. Alluisi, 97

Effects of signal to noise variability over repeated sessions in an auditory vigilance task by J. B. Thurmond, J. R. Binford, and M. Loeb, 100

Common features of the "repetition" and "same-different" effects in reaction time experiments by A. Entus and D. Bindra, 143

Effects of rate of signal rise and decay on reaction time to the onset and offset of acoustic stimuli by J. S. Warm and E. Foulke, 159

Duration of attention: The perceptual deprivation effect by B. T. Leckart, J. R. Levine, C. Goscinski, and W. Brayman, 163

Laterality effects and choice reaction time in a unimanual two-finger task by J. L. Bradshaw and A. D. Perriment, 185

Stimulus versus response probability effects in choice reaction time by I. Biederman and R. A. Zachary, 189

Spatially-limited attention to vibrotactile stimulation by O. Franzén, J. Markowitz, and J. A. Swets, 193

Response latencies in human matching-to-sample by G. C. Stone, 197

Observations with self-embedded sentences using written aids by R. Freedle and M. Craun, 247

Prediction of choice reaction time from information of individual stimuli by H. Kaufman, J. C. Lamb, and J. R. Walter, 263

Choice reactions with a null stimulus event by T. M. Cowan and B. D. Monroe, 267
